Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 01 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning misty and murky across central and eastern areas.

This Evening and Tonight:
Low cloud will spread back across many southern areas, with a mix of low cloud and fog across central and eastern areas. Some western and northern areas clear and frosty.

Tuesday:
Low cloud and fog probably retreating to some eastern and northeastern areas, where it will feel cold. In contrast, many southern and western areas sunny and pleasantly mild by afternoon.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloudy with showery rain for southern areas Wednesday, this clearing Thursday. Much colder, clearer weather already across the north, then follows south late Thursday. Frosts becoming widespread.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.